Fall 2010 Group Classes

Scribble on Sundays (Grades 3-6)

Sundays are precious – ideal for sitting back, relaxing and sharing thoughts on a book or taking time to reflect on and capture the things we've experienced or accomplished. Scribble on Sundays offers monthly opportunities throughout the school year for our young writers and artists to celebrate what excites them most. Classes include lots of opportunities for oral expression as students share their work with one another.

▶ Scribble Selection Book Club – 9 Sessions

Do you love reading as much as we do? Come to Scribble on Sundays and talk about our book of the month. Selections will be posted the month before on our website. In addition to practicing their public speaking, participants will be writing book reviews as well as letters to the author. A great way to share books among friends! Cost: $540 or $60 per class, $40 materials fee.

▶ A Yearbook of Me – 9 Sessions

Join us in this workshop as we assemble our very own memory books for the school year. Every month, students will be writing journal-like entries about the goings on in their lives to accompany any photographs, A+ papers, ticket stubs, or other memorabilia they bring in. Students will share their adventures together as they work to complete their own illustrated journals. An amazing way to develop descriptive writing skills! The year will culminate in the creation of a bound book that participants can take home to share. Cost: $540 or $60 per class, $40 materials fee.
