Fall 2010 Group Classes

Scribblets (Ages 2-3)

Sept. 20-Dec. 12th

Classes for Scribblets are one hour "grown-up and me" classes and focus on art exploration and the early building blocks of literacy. Each semester includes a variety of art media and culminates in the creation of a book that children take home to enjoy again and again.

▶ The Colors of My World

In this fun Scribblets class, children will explore primary and secondary colors through sensory activities. Side by side, each child and grown-up will use various media such as paint and collage to illustrate their color books. Children will learn important pre-literacy skills, including how to sort, recognize and match colors; and the idea that printed words convey meaning. Each class will be filled with songs, games and art related to the color of the day. Cost: $495

▶ Wonderful World of Animals

This class about animals will include stories, songs, games and masks to encourage fun social interactions. Children will learn basic descriptive words and practice visualization, in addition to a variety of fun art activities to create pages for their very own animal book. Cost: $495

▶ Daddy and Me

In this class children and their dads will be inspired each week by a different theme such as dogs, rainbows, and ladybugs. They will read a story, do an art project, sing songs and play games. There will be time to investigate a vast array of materials in order to create a page in their book based on the daily theme or to work on a unique creation of their very own. Fun and friendship guaranteed for all. Cost: $495
